Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 25 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy start with some rain. Drier, with brighter spells later.

Today:
Rather dull and cloudy, with outbreaks of rain at first, clearing east through the morning. Most parts drier with warm sunny spells by the afternoon. Further cloud and rain moving into some north and western areas later. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Most parts dry, with clear spells developing, although still the chance of one or two showers overnight. Staying rather cloudy, with further rain for some northern and western areas. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Saturday:
A fine day for most with warm sunny spells and light winds. The odd shower cannot be completely ruled out, but most parts will stay dry. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Often rather cloudy, but generally fine, with light winds and spells of warm sunshine. Low chance of showers, mainly on Sunday or Monday, but likely staying dry throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.